Report Lost Plane Found with All 11 Alive

LOCATED NEAR HIGH PEAK IN SWISS ALPS

Announcement Says 3 Seen Walking Close By; Supplies Dropped.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Nov. 22—Orly airfield announced tonight that the wreckage of an American C-53 transport sought since Tuesday had been found in the Alps near Interlaken, Switzerland, and that all the 11 persons aboard were alive.

The transport was found on a 30-degree slope about 500 feet from the peak of a 10,000-foot high mountain, according to a message from one of the search planes which was in direct communication with the grounded transport.

Orly field said three persons were seen walking about the wreckage. A party of Swiss mountain climbers and American nurses and doctors left Interlaken immediately for the scene of the crash, reported to be 13 miles southeast of that city.

Relief supplies were dropped and others were sped on the way to the snow-covered scene. A message from the faltering radio of the transport yesterday said eight of the 11 were "stretcher cases."

Previous Search Fruitless

U. S. officers in Frankfurt, Vienna and Paris told of the developments in the quest which obviously had been pressed fruitlessly in the French Alps to the southwest after the plane went down on a trip from Munich to Marseille.

Officials of Orly field in Paris pinpointed the spot as five miles south of the Swiss village of Meiringen, which would place it at the northeast edge of the icy wastes of the Bernese Obreland and 10 miles due north of the 14,026-foot Finsteraahorn.

Parachutists Ready

American and Italian parachutists and trained mountaineers stood by for renewed efforts to save the passengers and crewmen —Brig. Gen. Loyal M. Haynes, his wife, the wives of three other army officers and an 11-year-old girl among them. They had pleaded by an enfeebled radio for medical aid, food and clothing.

Foul weather blocked off the searchers temporarily this morning after a new radio "fix" on the transport swung the hunt to the area below Interlaken from a zone in the French Alps approximately 80 miles to the southwest, where ground and air rescue efforts had proved fruitless.

Army radio operators blamed magnetic disturbances, which interfered with clear receipt of the transport's messages, for the error in the original triangulation.

Emergency Calls Received

U. S. army airforce headquarters at Wiesbaden, Germany, said emergency call signals were being received hourly from the plane throughout the morning, reviving lagging hopes that the seven passengers and four crewmen on the craft still might be found alive.

One despairing radio message reported from the plane yesterday said "it is urgent, we want to live" but the final message officials said was received last night reported: "We can hold out for another 24 hours."

Earlier, army authorities had been heartened by a new radio "fix" on the supposed location of the downed C-53, 80 miles from the area in which the earlier searches had been conducted, but a heavy cloud blanket pinned searchers to the ground.

Trained American parachutists were standing by in Frankfurt, Germany, and Italian parachutists were ready in northern Italy. U. S. Italian and French alpinists and mountain troops were moving in for new efforts on the steep, snowy slopes.

Planes Grounded

American, British and French planes were grounded by the clouds and cloudy, rainy weather on the other side of the border kept Swiss fighter planes from taking off to join the search for

Board Adopts New Schedule Of Pay for Marion Teachers; General Increase Is Provided

A new schedule of salaries of teachers in the Marion public schools was adopted yesterday afternoon at a special meeting of the board of education. Adoption of the schedule, which increases both starting and maximum salaries, was made possible by the passage Nov. 5 of a 2-mill tax levy for school purposes.

The new pay arrangement is known as a "single salary" schedule. Under it all beginning teachers start at the same salary but reach different maximums depending on their academic training.

Under the new schedule all beginning teachers, without previous experience, will start at $1,500 a year. The maximum salaries will be as follows: teachers with two years academic training, $1,900 to be reached in the fifth year; teachers with four years' training, or A.B. degrees, $2,600, to be reached in twelfth year; teachers with five years' training, or M.A. degrees, $2,700, to be reached in the thirteenth year of teaching.

As it applies to new teachers employed after adoption of the schedule, a salary increase of $100 a year is provided until the maximums are reached. However, for teachers now employed, board members said, the new schedule will not be fully effective in all cases for three years.

This is due to the $100 limitation on annual increases. However, in order to bring present teachers up to the schedule as quickly as possible in keeping with funds now available, additional yearly increases will be allowed. Board officials say this will adjust all salaries to the new schedule within three years. No teacher now employed will receive the full $2,700 maximum this year.

Immediate Raises Provided

Board members also said that under the new arrangement all teachers will receive immediate pay increases. By action of the board yesterday these are made retroactive to the beginning of the current school term.

Under the salary schedule in effect previous to the board's action yesterday the following minimum and maximum salaries for elementary teachers were in effect.

Starting teachers with two years academic training $1,232 ($990 plus $252 cost of living adjustment); starting teachers with four years' academic training $1,332 ($1,080 base plus $252 cost of living adjustment. The cost of living adjustment derived from funds provided by the state has been paid for the last two years. In addition to this the local board also paid each teacher an additional $50.) Maximums possible: teachers with two years' training, $1,782 after 12 years; with four years' training, $1,872 after 12 years. (The maximum figures also include the cost of living adjustment.

The former schedule for junior and senior high school teachers was as follows: (figures include cost of living adjustment): starting teacher with four years' training, $1,512; five years' training, $1,602. Maximums of $2,277 and $2,367 could be reached after 17 years.

The new schedule also provides additional compensation for principals as follows: elementary, $500 to $500; junior high school, $750; senior high school, $1,250.

Still Below State Average

Despite the increases provided under the new schedule Marion teachers still will be below the average paid in other cities of this population group, school officials said. Previously Marion ranked at the bottom of the list in most school salary classifications.

The pay increases will be made retroactive by issuing new contracts to all teachers for the full school year. Board officials pointed out it would be impossible to make a statement as to the amount of individual increases until salaries have been calculated.

The new schedule is based on the report of a survey made here last spring by the Bureau of Educational Research, College of Education, of Ohio State University. The report is titled "A Study of Teachers' Salaries, Marion, O.

CIO REELECTS MURRAY HEAD

Chief Given Another Term as President by Acclamation Vote.

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 22—Philip Murray today was re-elected president of the CIO by acclamation.

There was a 15-minute demonstration while a band played "Hail to the Chief" and CIO leaders paraded across the stage.

Shortly before the election, on this final day of a five-day meeting, the delegates took one more whack at the Communist party.

Change Preamble

They changed the preamble of the CIO constitution to declare: "We turn to the people because we have faith in them; and we oppose all those who would violate this American emphasis of respect for human dignity, all those who would use power to exploit the people in the interest of allied loyalties.

There was no debate.

The convention, acting on a swarm of important measures, also adopted a foreign policy resolution calling for world disarmament and opposing further stockpiling of atomic bombs.

Brings "No" Votes

In contrast to other convention resolutions the recommendation on foreign policy brought a considerable number of "no" votes.

Jack Altman, vice-president of the wholesale and retail employes union, declared in a fiery speech seeking to amend the statement that "dictatorship" should be condemned as a disease instead of merely "Fascism."

He maintained the resolution should urge the entire United Nations—not merely the United States—to break relations with Spain and Argentina, saying:

"Soviet Russia made a pact with Hitler once. How do we know it won't make a pact with Franco?"

OHIO STEEL MILLS PLAN CURTAILMENT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22—Ohio steel mills planned extensive curtailment of operations by early next week, and smaller industries and city government got busy with conservation programs today as stockpiles of bituminous coal dwindled.

As in the rest of the bituminous area, Ohios 20,000 miners quit work yesterday while United Mine Workers' president John L. Lewis and the federal government moved into a legal battle over the union's contract with the government coal administration. Lewis held that the contract ended Wednesday midnight.

No violence or picketing at Ohio mines had been reported.

Steel mills in Cleveland, Youngstown and Portsmouth continued operation, but Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. officials said possibly half of its 14,000 employes in Youngstown and Hubbard would be without work by the week's end and spokesmen for Republic Steel in Cleveland announced 65 per cent production cutbacks.

Charity Bazaar Draws 700 on Second Night

Approximately 700 persons attended the Lions club charity bazaar last night for the second night of a three-day event being held in The Star auditorium. Members of the Lioness club are assisting with the various activities. Arranged as a carnival, the bazaar has booths offering games, contests and other amusements.

The entire funds raised from the bazaar will be used by the club in sight conservation and blind work. Doors will open again tonight at 8 p. m. for the closing night of the bazaar.

BLAST FURNACES CLOSE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22 — Republic Steel Corp. announced today that three of its five blast furnaces in Cleveland and 10 of 21 furnaces in the country were shutting down because of the coal strike.

Clouds May Spoil Eclipse Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 — Partly cloudy weather may interfere with the view of a partial eclipse of the sun tomorrow, the weather bureau predicted today.

Watchers in Canada will see a greater eclipse than those elsewhere but it will be visible to a lesser degree across most of the United States except the extreme southwestern portion, the United States naval observatory said.

The partial eclipse starts at 10:50 a. m. and ends at 1:55 p. m. eastern standard time.

Governor-Elect Herbert Names Fred J. Milligan His Secretary

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22 — Governor-Elect Thomas J. Herbert announced today that Fred J. Milligan, Ohio commander of the American Veterans of World War II, would be his secretary when he takes office Jan. 13.

Herbert said Milligan's salary had not been fixed yet, but John Lokar of Cleveland, who holds the position under retiring Gov. Lausche, receives $6,000 a year.

Milligan, who was defeated by Paul M. Herbert for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor in the May primary, served as an assistant attorney general when John W. Bricker newly elected to the U. S. senate, was attorney general.

He is a native of Upper Sandusky and a graduate of Ohio State university and the Columbus law college. He is a former assistant dean of men at Ohio State university.

3 MORROW CO. YOUTHS HELD

'Teen Agers Accused in Series of Break-ins and Auto Thefts.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Nov. 22—Three 'teen age youths were being held in Morrow county jail today following a series of break-ins and auto thefts in this area during the last week.

Two were 16 years old and the third was 15. Their arrests came last night after the 15-year-old was caught as he attempted a break-in at Bean's Red and White grocery store in Johnsville. A neighbor, who heard him at the store, held him at the point of a shotgun until Sheriff Tom England arrived.

The youth later confessed to a series of breaking and entering jobs in the Mt. Gilead, Johnsville and Galion areas and implicated the two other youths, who were picked up at their homes. Charges of breaking and entering will be filed against the youths today, the sheriff was reported to have said.

The youths confessed breaking into a service station at Johnsville Nov. 14 and taking between $6 and $8 in change, and a Galion meat market, where they said they took 10 pounds of meat. They confessed breaking into Wagner's electrical shop at Mt. Gilead Monday night and taking $350 worth of radio equipment and a service station, where they took between $6 and $8 in change and candy and cigarets. They also confessed stealing two automobiles here Monday night. A car which they stole here Wednesday night they said they drove to Lexington, where they broke into two garages, taking a quantity of cigarets before returning the car.

Suspension Of Wagner Law Demand Grows

Capitol Hill Also Hears Request for Mining of Coal by Army.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—Demands for suspension of the Wagner act and for coal mining under army guards resounded today on Capitol Hill in a clamor for a special session of congress to deal with the coal crisis.

Pleas for President Truman to call the lawmakers into extraordinary session came from both Republican and Democratic ranks. There was no indication, however, that Mr. Truman contemplated such a step.

One of the Chief Executive's closest advisers said the possibility had not even been discussed. He predicted there would be no such call. If a special session were called it would be the 79th, or present congress, which would meet, not the new one elected Nov. 5.

Senator Byrd (D-Va) telegraphed the President asking that congress be called into session to back up Mr. Truman's stand against president John L. Lewis of the AFL United Mine Workers.

In a statement, the Virginian proposed legislation which would permit the government to:

1. Impound union funds to prevent payments to strikers,

2. Take away from strikers any benefits contributed by the government or employers, such as unemployment insurance. The UMW has millions in a welfare fund built up by a five cent a ton royalty on coal mined.

3. Authorize the organization of workers, under the army's protection, to reopen the closed coal mines.

"The moral strength of the whole nation, led by the President and the congress," Byrd declared, "is so great that it cannot be thwarted by any group of men. If a democracy cannot protect itself against one man in a matter so vital as this, then democracy has failed.

"The situation is intolerable and menaces the very stability and foundation of our institutions."

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) proposed that the President call congress back "to suspend the Wagner act until they (the miners) go back to work." The Wagner act guarantees labor the right of collective bargaining.

Ira Schifer Dies in Bucyrus; Bride Badly Injured.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 22—Ira Schifer, 23, Sycamore World War II veteran who suffered severe burns in a kerosene explosion in his home early Thursday, died in Bucyrus City hospital Thursday at 4:20 p. m.

His wife, Ivie, 19, a British war bride, also burned in the explosion, remains in serious condition, hospital attendants reported.

Mr. Schifer was born May 11, 1923, in Lykens township, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schifer, also of Lykens township, who survive. Other survivors, besides his widow are five brothers, Paul, Fred, Vern, Dale and Ralph, all at home and five sisters, Mrs. Virgil Marquart, Lucille and Mildred, all of Bucyrus, and Barbara and Helen at home.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Good Hope Lutheran church with burial in Oakwood cemetery at Bucyrus. The body is at the Henderson and Lutz funeral home here where friends may call.

Mr. Schifer was discharged from the Army signal corps in January. He was married in England in July, 1945. Mrs. Schifer came to this country in April.

The explosion Thursday, which threw burning kerosene over the bodies of both Mr. and Mrs. Schifer, occurred when they attempted to pour kerosene on a fire in their cook stove.

MINE LEADER TO APPEAR IN COURT MONDAY

UMW Chief Silent as Paper Is Handed to Him at Office.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—Two federal marshals served John L. Lewis with a summons today requiring his appearance in federal court Monday morning to answer a contempt citation resulting from the soft coal strike.

Lewis accepted the summons in his private office "without comment," an aide reported.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough last night ordered Lewis to show why he should not be held in contempt for refusing to withdraw his contract termination notice—the signal which led to the walk-out of his 400,000 bituminous coal miners.

The two federal deputies went to Lewis' office a few minutes after he arrived at union headquarters from his home in nearby Alexandria, Va., where he had been in seclusion for the last 36 hours.

Lewis Awaits Summons

The deputies ascended to Lewis' sixth-floor office in the union building where the mine leader was waiting for them.

The marshals were with Lewis only a few minutes and then left.

Apparently in good spirits, the mine union chief emerged from his home at 10 a. m. for the short drive into the capital.

He stood on his porch to pose for cameramen, his cane on his arm, and a cigar in his hand.

"Take your time, boys," Lewis said.

No Comment on Move

To reporters he said he had no statement to make other than that he was headed for United Mine Workers headquarters in Washington.

A crowd that gathered around Lewis' suburban Virginia home yesterday had dwindled away. Only reporters and photographers were on hand when he emerged.

Arriving in his chauffeur-driven Cadillac at union headquarters 15 minutes later, Lewis again posed for photographers on the steps of the six story UMW building.

Asked if he had come to accept service of the court papers, he replied:

"No comment."

Same Reply Given

The same reply met other questions about the strike situation.

As he alighted from his car, Lewis waved his cane in greeting to a group of onlookers.

His presence in the District of Columbia for the first time since Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ordered his appearance in court Monday indicated he was ready to accept personal summons from U. S. marshals.

No marshals were on hand when he arrived, however, and Lewis went immediately to his sixth floor office.

His squad of attorneys already was in the building.

The writ is another step toward possible clanging of jail doors in the UMW chieftain's face. It directs him to appear before U. S. District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough on Monday and tell why he did not honor an order to recall his contract "termination" of Wednesday night.

If Lewis fails then to clear himself of the contempt charge—possibly by calling off his "termination" notice or by showing that his stand is lawful—the next step will come Wednesday. On that day, Judge Goldsborough "with an advisory jury" will decide Lewis' guilt or innocence.

Could Be Jailed

If convicted, the union might be fined and Lewis sent to jail, until he obeys the court.

The contempt citation was issued late yesterday. It was not served immediately because Lewis had gone to his home in Alexandria, Va., and it had to be served in the District of Columbia.

Associates of Lewis indicated then that there would be no difficulty about service—that Lewis would make himself available in Washington.

In the mine fields, tension mounted as the idle miners watched the struggle between their leader and the government. Two men were shot fatally in West Virginia in the first major flare-up of violence.

OHIO HOME BUILDERS URGE RENT FREEDOM

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22—The Ohio Home Builders association in annual convention yesterday went on record as favoring removal of all government controls and regulations in the construction industry.

The association called for abolishment of the NHA, the CPA and the OPA in a resolution which urged restoration of a "complete free enterprise system . . . in its entirety for the construction industry."

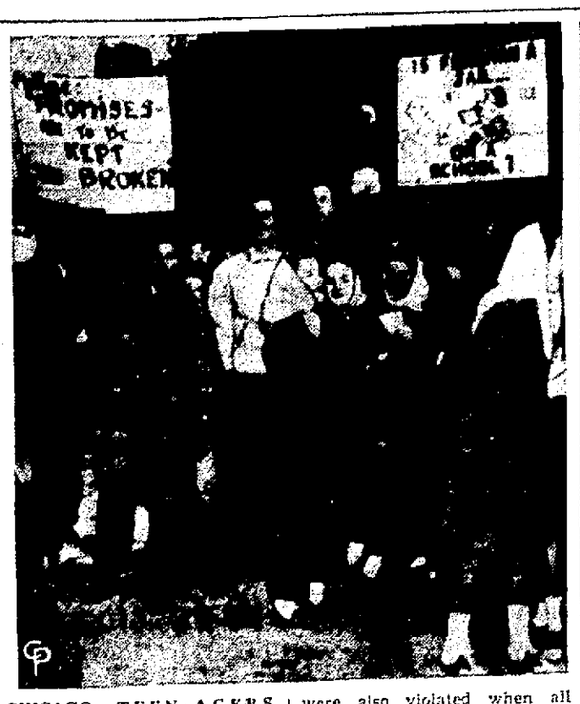
Home builders, it was said, "for many months have struggled to provide homes for veterans under an elaborate system of government controls."

The controls, the builders added, "in their combined effect have caused greater confusion in the production of building materials and their movement into veterans' homes."

Arthur Binns of Philadelphia, president of the National Home and Property Owners foundation, in a speech last night advocated removal of OPA rent controls.

He proposed a formula which he said would ease the shock to the renter. It would be a lease agreement by which landlord and tenant would agree to a 15 per cent increase for a year, after which controls would be lifted.

Yucatan Indians weave ceremonial belts and fringed ornaments from the cocoons of the giant "silk" moths of the Americas.



CHICAGO TEEN-AGERS STRIKE AGAIN. Six hundred students of Foreman high school in Chicago resumed their strike claiming that promises of more freedom made to them to halt their last walkout had been violated. The teen-agers said that pledges made to them that none of the strikers would be punished for the last walkout were also violated when all strikers working in the attendance and record offices were dismissed.

Waldo Church Plans Second Special Service

The second service of a series in observance of the fiftieth anniversary of dedication of St. Joseph's Evangelical and Reformed church at Waldo, will be held Sunday night.

A special Thanksgiving service will be marked, with showing of 53 pictures and lecture on "The Puritans in America," and other special anniversary features, Rev. H. N. Doerres, pastor, announced. The service will be at 7:30. It is one of five services set to commemorate the church dedication which was in 1898 under the leadership of Rev. E. G. Williams.

Other special services scheduled include programs on Sundays, Dec. 1 and 15, and Monday, Dec. 23. The night of Dec. 1, Rev. Frank Zartman of Bloomville, minister who supplied as pastor of the church some time ago, will give a message; Dec. 15, a presentation of "Light of the World" will be made with lecture illustrated by pictures; and Dec. 23, a special concert of Christmas numbers will be given by Wilbur Fish of Columbus, known as the Joy Bell Ringer. This will be music played on a variety of unusual instruments.

No Added Changes In Train Time Here

No further changes in railroad schedules affecting Marion have been made since the Erie announced yesterday discontinuance of two freight trains through here effective next Monday, railroad officials here said today. The curtailment was in compliance with the office of defense transportation order designed to extend railroads' fuel supplies through the coal mines shutdown.

The C. and O. announced several changes affecting Ohio points, to take effect Sunday at 11:50 p. m., the Associated Press reported. None of them, however, affected Marion. The New York Central's schedules through here have not been affected, officials here said.

The C. and O. schedules adjustments were announced as follows:

That's Marathon Gasoline's extra STARTING POWER on the job. Right now, every gallon of Marathon Gasoline is Seasonized for Winter, refinery balanced to deliver the right combination of Starting Power, Pick-Up Power and Running Power for top performance at winter temperatures. Makes a difference? Try a tankful, today. Look for the season at the nozzle. It means:

• Faster cold-weather starting • Swifter warm-up and pick-up • Smoother engine performance • Rugged, responsive power • More miles per gallon • Added protection against knocking

Marathon Gasoline Is A Season-Balanced Blend of Light, Medium and Heavy Gasolines

LIGHT gasoline vaporizes fast for quick starts. It's the "paper" that lights the fire.

MEDIUM gasoline accelerates the warm-up. It's the "kindling."

HEAVY gasoline catches last, produces most of the power. It's the "coal."

You need all three gasolines blended in the right refinery balance for best all-'round performance. You're sure of "right balance" with Marathon Seasonized gasoline, correctly rebalanced for every season of the year.

Temperatures Drop To Lowest Point Of Autumnal Season

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 — Temperatures dropped to their lowest marks of the fall season over a wide section of the country today, dipping to 17 below in Glasgow, Mont., for the day's coldest weather.

Williston, N. D., reported 11 below zero, and in neighboring Minnesota, Bemidji's 2 above was the coldest spot. The low in the Minnesota's twin cities was 8 above. Chicago had its coldest autumn day, 20 above, and the season's first snow, light flurries.

High winds and rain, changing to snow flurries occurred in the upper lakes, while light rains were reported in the mid-Mississippi and Ohio valleys, to the southeastern states. Mild temperatures continued in the eastern section, while rain fell in western Washington, Oregon and northern California.

History's Greatest Collection Of Diamonds Found in Japan

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—Hundreds of thousands of cut diamonds—probably the greatest assortment ever assembled in modern times — is in the hoard which American occupation forces uncovered in Japan

Government officials said today the Japanese government collected the huge treasure from the Japanese people as a desperate war financing measure Apparently the intention was to sell the gems for foreign exchange and purchase munitions and raw materials.

A war department announcement last night said the gems were valued at between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 But gem experts with knowledge of the hoard said the army undoubtedly was speaking conservatively and of the New York wholesale price In settings and in the possession of individuals, they said, the value would be far greater.

"They represent the entire diamond resources of the whole nation" Edward Henderson of the Smithsonian Institution told a reporter. "This undoubtedly is a situation unique in history. I know of no other time when virtually every diamond owned by every individual in a nation was assembled at one place"

The gems now are in vaults of the Bank of Japan in Tokyo They were found buried and hidden in many places of the Japanese empire.

The gems came into possession of the Japanese army when the government appealed to the people to turn them in When the Japanese surrendered, the hoard became widely distributed

Telling how the diamonds were found, officials here said one box was located in Tokyo after a Japanese reported to Americans he knew of a place "where diamonds were scattered all over"

American army intelligence then uncovered other hiding places which yielded gallons of diamonds, often in flimsy containers such as shoe boxes The gems were "in a confused condition Dirty and mixed with worthless debris," the army announcement said

Henderson and Dr William H Foshag, curator of minerals at the Smithsonian, were called to Tokyo to classify and appraise the collection

"If they had been piled in one heap, on a desk, I don't suppose you could have stretched your arms around the bottom of the pile," Henderson said

There were so many that it took Henderson and Dr Foshag, working with four Japanese five solid months to count and classify them

Government officials have not been notified what disposal will be made of the diamonds but they expect them to become reparations, for payments to the Allies who fought Japan.

Treasury records show that at the end of his first term as President, George Washington was overdrawn by $1,042 68—and left office at the end of his second term without drawing $3 908 that was coming to him

John Lewis vs. Everything

JOHN L LEWIS has won most of his battles with employers, labor leaders and politicians. He is now in the midst of a battle with the legal profession and may win that one too.

But Mr. Lewis vs. the people is still a touch-and-go contest. When he was battling employers that was one thing, labor leaders another thing, politicians another thing. His battle with lawyers comes a little closer to the ultimate showdown, because the lawyers are representing popular sovereignty, but it still is not conclusive; he may win on a technicality.

There will be no technicalities in his battle with the people For the most part, they were behind him when he was lifting mining as an occupation from the depths of industrial bondage to a well-paid livelihood. They grumbled at his tactics, but backed him in principle. But Mr. Lewis now has assumed the right to inconvenience his benefactors at a time when they have grown impatient with inconveniences imposed by minorities.

The people's impatience was manifest at the polls this month. There was a revolt against minority groups whose strategic positions had given them power to defy the general welfare. It was the plain will of the majority in free-voting states to restore a balance of power in the United States which would make it impossible for minorities to ride roughshod over the rights of majorities. John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers will do their roughshod riding at their own risk.

Bevin's Turn Now

THE foreign policy insurrection of more than half a hundred British Labor members of Parliament makes our own affair Wallace look like a tempest in a teapot.

The British Russophiles who want to turn on the green light for Soviet expansionism are numerous and energetic. The wedge they are using, hoping to split Anglo-Saxon resistance, is sharper on the edge and wider at the top than the wedge Henry Wallace used. He merely questioned the propriety of the United States playing close to Britain in foreign affairs. But the British Laborites charge that the United States is dragging Great Britain into the war it is actively promoting with the Soviet Union, Americans, they say, have war fever.

This is extremely embarrassing, of course, to Foreign Minister Bevin—more so than the Wallace outburst was to State Secretary Byrnes. The Laborites are Bevin's own kind, whereas all that Byrnes ever had in common with Wallace was a long ride on the same political bandwagon. When the time came to getoff, they knew they could go their separate ways And when the time did come to get off and they did go their separate ways, Wallace walked alone. Bevins, Prime Minister Attlee and the other leaders of the Labor party have a quarrel inside the family to settle; their bad boys can't be asked to resign.

It was certain to happen sometime, and when it happened there was certain to be the charge that the United States was dragging Great Britian into war by refusing to consent to unlimited appeasement of the Soviet Union The British Russophiles now are in the open. It is most interesting to learn from them that war fever is raging here. Millions of Americans who thought they had helped cool off war fever for a few generations are having a chill of apprehension about Russia's good faith, that's all.

Atomic Power Trustees

THE power to control atomic power, if it could be bestowed, would be greater than the thing the United States is hoping to control

Its vastness can be judged by a comparison with the power to control the sources, refinement and distribution of petroleum, if that power had been bestowed.

Petroleum, in World War II, was a more potent source of energy than the materials from which atomic energy is released. It furnished power for the ships, airplanes, tanks, vehicles and mobile engines that energized a mechanized war.

Yet, except for the authority exercised by government to obtain the petroleum it needed for prosecution of the war, this source of energy was in private hands. Its exploitation before and during the war was in private hands.

Atomic energy, for better or for worse, now is in the hands of government. The five-man board of civilians named to take over control of atomic energy from the war department has accepted one of the greatest assignments in humanity's long record of trials in controlling potential good and evil.

The bestowal of authority by a presidential decision is tenuous at best. At worst, it might be an empty gesture. In recent days another public agency called a decontrol board, charged with responsibility for making the transition from wartime price control to peacetime free marketing, found itself shelved by the same authority which created it.

John Eliot's "Indian Bible," published in 1663, is believed to have been the first translation of the entire Bible in a new language as a means of evangelization.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Factors, Including Political, Behind Coal Strike.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—The motivating factors behind the coal strike can best be told in a personal vein. I do not wish to get into an argument about the strike I am biased.

In the first place, this strike against government was deeply stained with politics Lewis served notice of the breakage of a contract with the government a few days before election, and his United Mine Workers man in West Virginia came out against the Democratic senatorial candidate (who won, incidentally).

Lewis is a Republican and certainly timed his strike politically against a Democratic government which has chosen to stand up against him in a strong way which could possibly break his union, now that election is over.

It is not in that respect I am biased, but solely as regards Lewis and his tactics. Despite his audacity, he never lost a strike during the Roosevelt regime. He always seemed to know where the body was hidden around the White House. When he clung to audacity in the matter of hours and wages, he was on sound ground.

He Taxes Coal

Some people turned against him because he called a strike of his vital public utility in wartime. I turned against him when he levied a tax on every ton of coal produced No labor leader has a right to levy a consumption tax, indeed no one has except a government. When he did that, for what he called a welfare fund, he put himself in the class with Petrillo as a little Caesar, for Petrillo levies a consumer tax on every musical record produced

Soft coal is consumed these days mostly by middle class or poor people and by public utilities like the railroads and steam electric power plants. The well-to-do and successful people and concerns have already found oil burners to be more reliable than coal, and they rely on the higher cost heat. Peacetime production was about the same as 25 years

Anyway railroad rates to consumers and the electrical rates are largely fixed by government commissions on the basis of costs, and therefore a strike in coal falls almost entirely upon two classes of citizens (not the coal management which has long since proved too weak to fight Lewis, who has caused the mines to be operated since April by the federal government) namely these: The man who cannot afford better fuel and the electrical consumer, the traveler and freight rate payer (you all pay this in the price of your goods).

Against these people Lewis has staged five strikes in the past nine years, while constantly failing to keep up the value of his product. (Value of our total soft coal production of 416,000,000 tons in 1921 was $1,199,184,000 while the total production of just about the same amount, 450,000,000 tons in 1940, was $879,000,000)

Lewis has actually priced coal out of its normal expectations of expanded use against better fuels by strikes against the companies culminating in a strike against government He has considerably abandoned demands based upon earnings of the companies, (the old plea of unions to capture earnings) and now wants coal prices which will meet his demands. Against such a short-sighted policy in a state if not waning industry, the public has taken steps

Move Away from Coal

The railroads and electrical companies are perhaps the largest users, and they are developing other means. The electrification of the Pennsylvania has turned out well and the Diesel is handling passenger and freight traffic efficiently and increasingly. Water power development is cutting down need for stand-by steam plants and local steam plants. Frankly the thing I would like least to own in the United States today is a coal mine.

Now little and big Caesars always kill themselves by taking in too much territory, by wanting too much, and Lewis is getting himself to this point now. If the Democrats do not get him, the inevitable progress of events must restrict his economic significance. I think the miners have largely seen this coming and have in recent years branched out into farming and other enterprises.

I do not wish to get in an argument, as I say, about anything which involves foregone symptoms. Nothing anyone can say or do will be much help. Lewis never loses, they say, but inside information from the government is he will this time—while the operators sit out seeing the government trying with troops to test its ability to operate a public utility.

As I say, this is one fight in which I became biased before it went this far. The only slight chance of doing the consumer any good lies in doing what should have been done long ago; Congress should declare coal a public utility and should set up for all public utilities a system of handling wage disputes without strikes and take steps to protect consumers against unwarranted prices—particularly against the levying of consumption taxes by any public utility union or any other power except government. And You Don't Even Have To Buy A Ticket

The National Selected Morticians, Inc. have begun a campaign to increase attendance at funerals.

It's all for the re-establishment of spiritual values, too, and not, as suspicious souls might suspect, to attract larger audiences to view their handiwork.

Funeral attendance has declined steadily in recent years, the current generation apparently taking literally the admonition to let the dead bury the dead.

A first-class funeral used to draw at least as well as an ice-cream festival or cakewalk. Now they attract fewer persons than a Republican rally in Mississippi.

Morticians are hard put to increase attendance . . . They can't hold "Ladies Day" as do baseball clubs, nor give away dishes and book double-features like the movies.

That's why they've started stressing the spiritual value of funerals. And, in truth, there's nothing like attending one to make even the most despondent breathing citizen realize how much he's got to be thankful for, ago. But the value has fallen considerably.

A 20 Per Cent Income Tax Cut

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON—A 20 percent reduction in individual income taxes, as promised by Republican leaders in Congress, would mean a tidy savings for taxpayers in all income brackets.

The tax of a $2,500 wage earner with a wife and two dependent children would be cut from $95 to $76 a year, a reduction of $19. The tax of a married person with no dependents and an income of $25,000 would be reduced from $9,082 to $7,265 60, a slash of $1,816 40.

To many people $19 is a puny savings However, to a man or a widow supporting a family of four on $2,500 a year in a time of high living costs, it probably means much more than a $1,816 savings to the $25,000-a-year taxpayer. The $19 may be sorely needed for food, clothing, or medicine while the $1,816 may mean only a second automobile or other luxury.

Cut May Be Graduated

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, slated to be Speaker of the House in the new Congress, has said that the proposed 20 percent reduction will be "straight across the board." That would mean a 20 percent cut for all individual tax payers—(not corporations) in every income bracket from the lowest to the highest.

However, there may be considerable pressure in Congress to give a larger measure of relief to low-income taxpyers than to those in the high brackets. That's how the reduction by Congress a year ago worked out. Increase of the dependent exemption allowance took 12 million small-income persons right off the federal tax rolls.

Some Congressmen think there will be considerable backing in the House and Senate for a graduated reduction, starting possibly at 20 percent or more in the low-income brackets and tapering down to 15 or 10 percent in the high brackets. The high prices of so many necessities will be a main argument of advocates of greater relief for small wage-earners, particularly those with several dependents.

A tax cut could be put into effect by reducing tax rates or increasing the amount of allowance for dependent exemptions, or by both methods. In 1945 Congress changed the law to grant exemptions from both normal tax and surtax amounting to $500 each for the taxpayer, his spouse, and his dependents. Under the old law, these exemptions were allowed only for the surtax.

Congress also reduced the tax rates in each surtax bracket, the changes applying to 1946 income.

Speed Is Important

Republican leaders have said that the proposed reduction would apply to all income received in 1947. Tax authorities believe that if Congress does proceed to cut taxes on 1947 income there will be considerable pressure for doing it quickly.

That's because employers will start withholding taxes under present rates from the pay of millions of employes on Jan. 1, two days before the new Congress convenes. If taxes were withheld

Taft and the 80th Congress

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—There is much instruction in the reasoning which has led Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the most powerful man in congress, to sidestep the official leadership of the senate Republicans. In his eyes, the senate leadership is only second prize; the first prize is, of course, the Republican nomination in 1948. If he takes the leadership now, he will commit himself to supporting the majority view of the senate Republicans on all big issues. This will interfere with his presidential candidacy. Therefore he prefers to do the work of senate leader, but to retain his freedom of action by leaving the title to Wallace White of Maine.

In short, nothing can induce Taft to become a candidate for the leadership except the threat of a rebellion against White. Fortunately White means to leave the senate after his present term, so that the leadership will again be vacant two years from now. And Taft will collect his second prize then if he fails, in the interval, to get the first. As usual his plan is matter of fact, businesslike and workable.

It is also instructive, because it indirectly reflects Taft's assessment of the character of the new congress. While the Democrats are nursing their wounds at home, enough Republicans have come to celebrate their victory in Washington to give a general idea of what is ahead. The picture is singular, in detail and in the large,

Brewster Oddity

For sheer oddity, no detail is more remarkable than the suddenly formed presidential ambitions of Senator Owen Brewster of Maine This solemn legislator has inherited the chairmanship of the Mead—formerly Truman—committee. The brilliant thought has occurred to him that what Truman did, he can do. And he now proposes, according to slightly malicious report, to investigate himself into the White House. In view of his performance on the Pearl Harbor committee, the thought of Senator Brewster investigating himself into the White House is one to make the imagination reel.

Yet the oddity of the larger picture is also considerable. For it has already become apparent that Senator Taft, who is certainly the pre-eminent conservative in American politics, is going to be made to look downright progressive by contrast with his colleagues. In the few days since the triumphant Republicans began to gather here, he has stood forth as the apostle of caution and comparatively constructive action. On the one hand, he has tried to lay the groundwork for Republican acceptance of his Wagner-Ellender-Taft housing bill, his education bill and his health bill. On the other hand, he has labored to restrain over-hasty tax cuts and half-baked plans for abolishing the labor movement. He is of course immeasurably to the right of such rare non-conservative Republicans as Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont, whom he is firmly eliminating from any part in drafting labor legislation. But he is also well to the left of the body of his party. This, in itself, is a sufficient indication of what lies ahead.

Early Sign

The divergence between Taft's approach and that of the Republican majority was already in evidence at the first meeting of leading Republicans of both houses last Friday. At this get-together, the future speaker, Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, developed the expected reluctance to do anything very much, except indulge in such gestures towards the voters as the tax cuts which everyone is discussing. Other Republicans rode various hobby-horses, while Taft spoke up for what may be described as a rounded conservative program. The difficulty is that Taft's brand of conservatism, stern though it is, looks almost radical to many of the men with whom he must work.

The housing program set forth in the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill, for example, will probably have to be heavily emascuated before it can be got through the house. Again, Taft also believes in passing moderate legislation along the lines of the FEPC and anti-poll tax bills. But most Republicans, now that they are in, would prefer to let these sleeping dogs lie. The sentiment showed itself in the house steering committee when Representative Charles Halleck, who is generally free enough to voice his opinions, sought to pass responsibility for a decision on the FEPC bill to his rival for the floor leadership. Representative Clarence Brown. Brown handed it right back, remarking that a man who wanted to be floor leader should not need advice on such matters.

The question remains whether Taft's approach will prevail. If it does, the results are predictable. There will be labor legislation, but of a relatively un-vindictive character, like Taft's milder version of the Case bill.

There will be tax cuts, but only after the budget has been cut with some caution. (Taft has now explained that he advocated a $25,000,000,000 budget only as a "goal," and will not sacrifice such essentials as the national defense to attain it.) There will also be some legislation like the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill, although the program will be gravely deficient in such large, constructive measures as a plan to strengthen American foreign policy by employing American economic resources for sound purposes abroad. But while one can forecast what Taft would like to do, and be sure that he will leave no stone unturned to get it done, there is no way of telling whether he can control such phenomena as the anti-labor hysteria that is bound to result from another round of serious strikes.

Service With a Smile

By TRUMAN TWILL

Service, the weak spot in the American way of life, is coming back. A service department employe smiled at a woman in Battle Creek, Mich., day before yesterday. A man in Burmingham had a radio that needed fixing and got it overnight repair job that worked a whole week. An elderly lady in Punxsatawney, Pa., called a refrigerator repairman who came the next day as promised, made a minor repair, charged no more than the job was worth and left with a smile.

The smile will come back before the service in most cases. Anyone can learn to smile but service is an art. A whole generation of postwar apprentices will have to learn to master it, because during the war it was neglected. Even before the war, nothing much had been done about mastering the art of service.

We had millions of automobiles, but the owners figured that if they found one mechanic in five who could tell whether the trouble was in the windshield wiper or the differential housing and do something about it without leaving a wrench wedged in the fan blades it was a lucky day.

We bought washing machines and mechanical refrigerators by the trainload, but it was a toss-up whether to try to have one fixed if it went on the fritz or to turn it in on a new one and avoid the headache that resulted from looking for a service man who knew what he was looking for.

The radio became a fixture of every household. But if one conked out it was smarter to pour gasoline over it and set it afire in the driveway than to start sending its interior workings from pillar to post at $10 a pillar or $2.50 a post, hoping the laws of chance would prevail and a repairman would do the right thing eventually.

We flossed up the American way of life with electric clocks, irons, mixers, burglar alarms, thermostats, ventilating systems and heating plants so sensitive they would shut off when a bead of perspiration broke out on a fat man's head, but eventually there came the inevitable moment when they had to be fixed. At that moment, they became Exhibit A in the case of the People vs. the Gadget Makers.

Here and there a service genius bobbed up—a rare bird who could understand that the American way of life depended on keeping all the gadgets in working order. He had a passion for putting things into shape. He never stopped with a lick and a promise. His sense of ethics was as taking care of sick machinery was as strong the ethics of a good doctor taking care of sick people. He believed in making repairs right at a price the customer could pay. He delivered the goods, and if he promised them on Friday they were delivered on Friday.

That was service with a smile—the customer's smile. Some of the boys did it before the war. A few did it during the war. Millions must learn how to do it now, with a nation cluttered with gadgets and widgets that won't work, all waiting for a service man who knows his stuff. The American way of life is hanging in the balance.

This brought the jockeying into the stretch with the British replying all right, if we're going to talk about disarming, let's count the troops at home as well as abroad, and get down to business on a police force for UN.

Russians on Spot

Embarrassment by then had become counter-embarrassment. It's the Russians who have been fogging up the police force outlook to the point where the UN military staff has been able to do nothing.

Talk of inspection to verify the reports if the nations decide to report, of tying it all in with atomic control, of deciding how many troops are actually needed for occupation and how many just constitute political pressure, have further complicated the situation—which ought not to be called a situation, but rather a nebulae, or an atom core, or something else which can not be felt, seen or understood.

Fear U. S. Reaction

The mystery lies in why the British and Americans chose to run with this Russian punt instead of just letting it bounce out-of-bounds. One reason seems to be a desire to fight fog with fog—not to let the Russians get away with that propaganda that we're a bunch of wolves among the weaker nations. Another, I am told by a careful observer is that our own American delegates are afraid for the public to learn that there's a lot of unmitigated propaganda, even approaching buffoonery, going on out at Lake Success. They don't want the public to become disgusted, fear the idea might spread that nothing serious is being done and that America better "take over" the world while there's still a chance of doing so.

Cross-Examination Begun in Ohio Trial

By The Associated Press

LISBON, O., Nov. 22—Lawrence A. Wheatley, 26, a Newell, W. Va. potter, faced cross-examination today in his murder trial on charges of slaying Mrs. Letha Barrett, 57, of East Liverpool, last May 23.

"Things started going around after I took a second drink of brandy, the afternoon of May 23," he testified yesterday, saying he "did not remember anything after that."

The defendant took the stand after Dr. Robert E. Olsen, Youngstown psychiatrist, had testified that he had a "dull normal mentality." Dr. Olsen and Dr. R. E. Bushong of the Lima State Hospital both had reported Wheatley "presently sane."

LIMA BALL CLUB SOLD FOR $6,000

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., Nov. 22—The Lima Terriers of the Ohio State league were sold today to J. Ramon Laibe of Lima for $6,000, thus assuring this city a baseball team in 1947.

Laibe, owner of Halloran park, home of the Terriers, purchased the club's 200 shares of stock from a syndicate headed by C. O. Porter after the old regime was unable to swing a deal for the park.

Porter had talked of moving the franchise to another city next year as his group negotiated for the park.

Laibe said he would spend $5,000 for park improvements.

A 30-year-old former farm boy, the new owner played baseball with the Lima Central High school team and the Westinghouse Electric Corporation semi-pro club until a leg fracture put him out of the game.

He said he woud go to the Los Angeles major-minor league conference and seek the backing of a major league club plus additional players. He has an option on 10 players left from the 1946 season.

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE O, Nov 22 — Twenty-two persons were held in jail here for investigation after raids on hotels, late evening spots and restaurants. The raids were led by Sheriff Robert D Bates and Police Chief Ross H Cunningham.

Sixteen of those held were women.

The police chief and the sheriff announced jointly the raids were the first of a series to rid the city of undesirables. Both said the first raid was aimed at breaking up illicit prostitution in hotels and other spots.

Any suspicious man or woman without visible means of support will be apprehended, the officials said.

The raiding parties also visited a reported visit from Gov. Lausche to confer with them on vice conditions.

Russ Delegate Shot in Holdup

Moscow Sees Political Plot; Police Say "Just a Stickup."

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Nov 22—Foreign Minister Dmitri Manuilsky of the Soviet Ukraine declared today that the shooting of a Russian UN delegate by a pair of dedicated-to-the-cause robbers in New York's Bronx early last night had political significance but New York police commissioner said it was just a stickup.

Manuilsky told newsmen at Lake Success he believed the shooting of Gregory Sydnik 42 who got a bullet in the right thigh, was political and that it intended to be assassination. He declined to say what he thought public relations motives were involved or what he intended to do about it.

The Moscow radio, heard in London charged the shooting was an attempt on the life of Sydnik and his colleague A. D Voitn.

Yesterday's newspapers declared to present this assault as in yesterday case of gangsterism unusual in New York, as in instance of banditry for broadcast declared. However they refrained to admit that the attacker did not even attempt to rob the two delegates."

New York police described the affair this way.

Sydnik and Voitn entered the delicatessen just as two men were running out after a holdup which netted them $150. One of the robbers opened fire when the Ukrainians were too late in obeying in order to line up against a counter. Sydnik was hit in the right thigh and the holdup men escaped.

Soviet Newspapers Go All-Out on Shooting

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Nov 22—Soviet newspapers displayed prominently today reports on the wounding in New York of a Ukrainian United Nations delegate Gregory Sydnik, and the incident comes sure to have considerable effect on the Russian attitude toward the proposal to remove the permanent UN home from the United States to Europe.

There were indications that indignation was widespread among the Russian with most people feeling that Americans were negligent in protecting a delegate. Many came to the conclusion that the shooting had some sinister significance.

ESCAPEES TO FACE KIDNAPING CHARGES

By The Associated Press

LANCASTER O Nov 22 — Charges were to be filed in Mayor Fred Von Stein court today against four reformatory fugitives and their 16 year old girl companion in the $1 hold up kidnaping Wednesday night of Joseph Stanko 35, at his dry cleaning shop here.

The girl and the four men were brought to Lancaster last night from Millersburg by Fisher Chief Sam H Hutcher and two other officers. Hutcher said charges would be filed today.

He identified the five as James I Vendor 16 and Donald W Burton 2 both of Canton Leland B Fortenbaugh 16 of Akron Robert Miller 19 and his girl friend Sue Ellen Smith both of Cleveland.

In their city jail cells last night the quintet showed little sign of dejection at their arrest and whiled away the time singing, police reported.

The four men fled the Grafton prison camp of Mansfield reformatory Tuesday morning and were captured by Sheriff Wayne D Stamer and deputy in Holmes county early yesterday. They were riding in an automobile owned by Stanko who said he had been forced to accompany them after being threatened with a shotgun and robbed of $250 at his dry cleaning shop.

The sheriff said the Smith girl told him she obtained the shotgun from her father.

Highway patrolmen said the four men stole an automobile in Sandusky after escaping from the nearby Grafton camp picked up the Smith girl and used her as a decoy hitchhiker in stealing another car near Mansfield after wrecking the first one.

The occupants of the second car William Bell 21 of Mansfield and Merle Leddy 23, of Belleville were forced to accompany the four men and the girl to Columbus where they were bound and left in a field the patrol said. During most of the daylight hours Wednesday the patrol said the quintet hid in an unoccupied cabin near Lancaster.

LEWIS

a protracted work stoppage in the 3,300 government-held mines.

A brownout" to save fuel darkened the Capitol dome itself, while Republican and Democratic congress members joined in demands for extraordinary measures. Some asked a special session of congress but men close to President Truman said that was unlikely.

Neither Lewis nor his lieutenants give any inkling what he intends to do when he goes before Judge Goldsborough.

President Truman, still on vacation at Key West Fla, likewise had nothing to divulge on the administrations plans for getting the mines back into production.

Lewis May Shiver Too; Own Coal Supply Low

By The Associated Press

ALEXANDRIA Va, Nov 22 —If the coal walkout continues, John L Lewis may get cold, too. He probably has less than a months supply of coal at his home.

The opinion comes from C. I Dixon the man who sells Lewis his coal.

Dixon told a reporter today Lewis has a small bin for his huge house.

It only holds about a months supply he said. And we haven't put in any coal lately.

Lewis has some fuel insurance however. There's a woodpile in his back yard.

But his press secretary, Charles G Ross commented that developments in the capital are following a logical pattern.

Over the country, this was the picture in brief:

The official industry organ Steel' estimated lack of coal would drive production down to 50 per cent of capacity within two weeks. Republic Steel announced it would cut to 65 per cent Youngstown Sheet & Tube to 60 per cent. General Motors reported it had only a 24-hour steel supply.

165 Trains Cancelled

The New York Central Railroad said 165 of its passenger trains would cease operations Monday.

Stocks of industries most affected by the mine walkout led a slump in the New York market which brought prices near the lowest level since early 1945.

States and communities began working out plans to conserve electrical power produced by coal-burning steam plants.

Some 10 000 of the 80 000 hard-coal miners, whose contract is not involved in the Lewis-government fight walked off the job in eastern Pennsylvania. A union official blamed it on a false report that Lewis had been jailed.

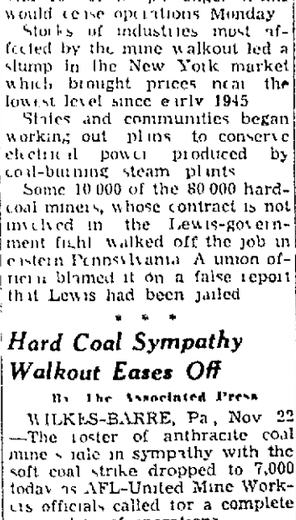
Hard Coal Sympathy Walkout Eases Off

By The Associated Press

WILKES-BARRE, Pa, Nov 22 —The roster of anthracite coal mine shale in sympathy with the soft coal strike dropped to 7,000 today as AFL-United Mine Workers officials called for a complete resumption of operations.

'Regardless of what their leaders say the men make up their own minds' said Michael Kosik, District 1 UMW president.

The sympathy walkout spread to the Nanticoke area as a check of collieries showed at least five shut down and many others working with reduced forces.



CITIZEN AGAIN. Rosalina Di Nola, 24-year-old American by birth who lost her citizenship due to an overstay in Italy, embraces the U S flag after regaining that citizenship because she had the courage to stowaway on a coal freighter from Naples, Italy. Taken to Italy at 14 to study designing, she was caught by the war and was unable to return to the United States.

CHARGES SOUGHT IN KILLING OF 2 MINERS

By The Associated Press

WELCH W Va Nov 22 — McDowell county Prosecutor Richard Parsons said he expected to file a formal charge of murder today against Sam Curry, 49-year-old mine foreman in the fatal shooting of two members of the United Mine Workers Union, the first reported violence from the nation's idle soft-coal fields.

Curry, foreman of the Little Bobbie Pocahontas Coal Co's truck mine at Eureka Hollow about 15 miles from Welch, was taken into custody at an undisclosed location last night for his own protection,' Parson said.

The prosecutor identified the dead men as Roosevelt Thomas, 45, of Bottom Creek, a former UMW committeeman, and Will Hunt, 65-year-old Eckman Negro.

Police Chief Harry Cypers, of Keystone, told the following story of the shooting.

Curry and two other men were unloading coal from a truck when Hunt and Thomas appeared and tried to induce him to shut the mine down. In the ensuing argument, the pair threatened to pull him from the truck. Hunt was shot twice one bullet from an automatic pistol entering near the heart and the other passing through the collarbone.

Thomas threw dirt at Curray and backed off and a second shot was fired Thomas was hit in the chest as he started to turn away.

Parsons expressed his satisfaction that the incident was just an isolated case and not provoked by either the UMW or the mine operators."

But Ray Thomason, of Welch a member of the union's international board, said he hoped 'this is not a move on the part of the operators to return to the old days of thuggery," and President George J Titler of UMW District 29 said his office was conducting its own investigation of the incident.

QUARREL OVER FARM ENDS IN SHOOTING

Newark Army Officer Wounded in Tiff with Tenant.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK O Nov. 22—A quarrel over wheat planting ended today in the serious wounding of Col Cliff Perkins former chief veterinarian in the European theater of operations and a veteran of both World Wars on his farm near Johnstown. Sheriff William McElroy reported.

Perkins, about 55 years old, was taken to a Columbus hospital with chest and head wounds suffered from a shotgun fired at close range. His condition was reported as fair.

Sheriff McElroy said Perkins' tenant farmer, Jesse Sweeney admitted shooting the Army officer but contended that the latter threatened him with a large steel rule this morning as he prepared to go hunting. No charges were filed pending the outcome of Perkins wounds.

The sheriff quoted Sweeney as saying that Perkins exclaimed during the quarrel 'Sweeney, I'm going to beat hell out of you!' Sweeney, McElroy said continued that Perkins backed him completely around his car. Sweeney said he reached in the car picked up his shotgun loaded it, and fired twice when Perkins continued advancing.

Perkins yesterday obtained a court order restraining Sweeney from planting more ground to wheat and had also secured an eviction order previously, to be effective by next March 1, McElroy said.

Sweeney had planted part of one field to wheat and the remainder was prepared for further planting the sheriff added.

How ever the two had been quarreling for some time over various matters, he said concerning the 225-acre farm Sweeney had lived there only a year. Colonel Perkins lives in the village of Johnstown.

STOCK MARKET FAILS IN COMEBACK MOVE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Nov 22—The stock market tried for a selective comeback today despite pessimism over the national coal walkout but most leaders eventually resumed the retreat.

Opening declines running to a point or so soon were reduced or converted into modest advances. Dealings tapered though, and many plus signs failed to hold. Losses of fractions to more than a point predominated near the fourth hour.

Short covering and quick-turn bidding apparently based on the idea that six successive falling sessions called for a technical revival, were said to have propped trends in the forenoon. Pleasing dividends were more or less ignored. Tax selling again was a retarding factor.

Favorable disbursements aided Twentieth Century-Fox Texas and Pacific Railway and Texas Co., although the last-named finally backed down. Resistant were American Telephone United Aircraft, Philip Morris Kennecott and Public Service of N J.

Laggards included U S Steel, Bethlehem Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Goodrich Standard Oil (N J) General Electric Montgomery Ward, International Harvester Baltimore and Ohio Johns-Manville and U S Gypsum.

Bonds were mixed cotton uneven and grains mostly improved.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Pyorrhea

Because it affects so many people, pyorrhea or Riggs' disease is one of the most important of the disorders involving the teeth. It not only causes eventual loss of teeth, but may also be responsible for general bad health, including such conditions as indigestion, skin eruptions and chonic rheumatism. For these reasons better results are obtained when doctor and dentist work together to treat this disease.

In the early stages of pyorrhea there is a shrinkiking of the tissue which holds the teeth to the gums. Later, inflammation of the gum margin is likely to cause some soreness and pain and, as the disorder progresses, the gum separates from the teeth, forming pockets which soon become filled with pus or infected material.

Finally the teeth become loose and shift position so that the center teeth may protrude. As a rule, a great deal of tartar will be found on the teeth. The tongue is coated and the breath has an offensive odor.

The dentist will determine after an X-ray examination which teeth are still serviceable and then will put them into the best possible condition by getting rid of the tartar and any tags of gum tissue around the margins of the teeth sockets. It is suggested that the spaces between the teeth may be packed with a paste made up of zinc oxide and other substance, and that the patient be instructed to use a toothpick with some dentrifice on it in order to keep the surfaces of the exposed roots of the teeth clean.

Dr. Austin Furniss of England believes that ultraviolet ray treatments may be helpful in some cases. This treatment is applied directly to the gums. It may produce a local reaction but this will cause no great difficulty. The gums around only four teeth are treated each time. Before the treatment is applied, the teeth are thoroughly scaled and cleaned. The treatment is repeated after five or six days.

Various preparations have been applied directly to the pockets in the gum but none may be said to do a great deal of good. Mouth washes are helpful in keeping the mouth clean. Vaccines made up of streptococcus germs have also been used. Of course, the patient with pyorrhea should not delay in having treatment carried out by the dentist and the physician.

As early as 1543, Ambrose Pare adopted the pressure method for inducing anesthsia—by pressure applied to a nerve trunk or artery.

After 50 Years, Editor Says He'd Do It Again

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—Looking back today on 50 turbulent years of newspaper work, Oswald Garrison Villard, dean of American press liberals said quietly:

"I'd do it over again. If I had my life to live over, I'd go into journalism again. There is no profession like it. It offers the greatest opportunity a man can find to serve his country and advance its welfare."

Hal Boyle

At 74 the bent scholarly editor finds present day American newspapers politically fairer than those of his youth, more informing on world affairs, more independent of advertiser pressure but—

"They still don't do their entire duty in forwarding progressive movements and helping the underdog in our political and social life as they should."

As to the future of liberalism?

"My nature is optimistic, but you tell me what will happen to the atom bomb and I'll tell you what the future of liberalism is."

He said he wouldn't try to define liberalism, but in his own life he has fought editorially against war, and for oppressed people—the Jews, Negroes or anybody else—for social legislation to better the lot of the individual, soviet and champioed free trade as a sure avenue to peace.

"Compromise," he continued, "is the direct antithesis of liberalism in my respect. Liberalism can't pay the price of obtaining equality along Russian lines. That would mean destruction of the four freedoms."

Started at $10 Weekly

Villard started his career 50 years ago this week as a reporter on the Philadelphia Press and got $10 for a 75-hour week.

"That was ridiculous," he smiled, "I asked for more money and they raised me to $12."

Having proved to his own satisfaction he could make his own way if he had to independently of help from his father, Henry Villard, financier and railroad builder, young Villard returned to New York and at the age of 28 took over the direction of the Evening Post. For decades he wielded a history-making influence in liberal legislation through the Evening Post and the weekly magazine, The Nation which he owned for many years.

"At the turn of the century," he remarked, "there weren't more than two dozen editorial writers in the country who really knew what was going on abroad. Our entrance into two World Wars changed that. Now the papers have to deal with foreign affairs."

Misses Past Era

Villard misses the era of "The Great Editors"—Dana of the New York Sun, Raymond of the Times, Godkin of the Evening Post, Greeley of the Tribune—and believes modern columnists and political commentators have "only partly filled the void they left."

He feels also that there has been something of a letdown in news quality by the preoccupation of more "trivial and unimportant matters" and the wide use of such entertainment features as cross-word puzzles, women's fashions and comic strips.

The public figure he has most respect for is Grover Cleveland. As no other president, Villard says, "he was absolutely immovable in his principles and couldn't be shaken from his stand by political considerations."

Villard sees the chief problems of modern liberalism as the elimination of war from the world, control of the atom bomb along the lines of the Baruch plan, and the eventual development of a one-world government, which he believes would be speeded by adoption of Churchill's proposal for a United States of Europe.

Germany Called Europe's Heart

"Whether we hate her or like her," he said, "Germany was the industrial heart of Europe. And we have put that heart out of business. And so France, Holland and other Allies are paying a high price for the general disorganization."

FM Kit Adapter Eliminates Tubes

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Seeking the quickest way to build an audience for the new 88 to 102 megacycle FM stations, George Driscoll has invented the "FM adapter kit."

Manager of the WHFM outlet in the city, Driscoll says the kit employs no tubes and will enable listeners to tune in many of the new channels on pre-war sets.

The adapter further will allow for reception should the Federal Communications Commission rule prevent low-band FF and FM transmitters off the air.

Indiana Farmer Named Director of Credit Group

Phares L. White, Oxford, Ind., farmer, has been elected to the board of directors of the farm credit administration of Louisville, according to an announcement today from the Marion production credit association.

Mr White's three-year term will begin Jan 1, 1947. He was elected by the 41 production credit associations in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. Owner of a prairie land farm in Benton county on which he was born, White produces purebred livestock and certified seeds on the 780 acres he now operates. GOVERNMENT'S ANSWER TO LEWIS: The house surplus property committee is investigating disposal of the Big and Little Inch oil pipelines, which transported petroleum during the war from Texas to the eastern industrial area. Capital observers see the action being taken to bring pressure on John L. Lewis, UMW chief, who opposes turning over the lines to natural gas companies because it would result in competition for coal. War Assets Administrator Robert Littlepohn, insert, has announced that 16 bids for the two properties have been rejected because they were not in "shooting distance" of the appraised valuation set at $110,000,000. The pictured portion of the Big Inch pipeline is in Pennsylvania. (International)

OHIO TO INVESTIGATE NIGHT CLUB SALES

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22—Improper substitution of liquor permits when night club ownership changes hands was under "vigorous investigation" today by the permit division of the state liquor department, H. T. Chapman, acting department director, reported.

Gov. Lausche yesterday said there has been an increase recently in the number of permit-holding establishments sold, and that the sales price "in many instances appeared to be far in excess of the establishment's physical assets."

"There appear to be attempts to set monetary values on liquor permits over and above the fee charged by the state," the governor continued. He asked the liquor department to confer with the collector of internal revenue over stated income of places sold and the sources of the money.

Meanwhile Chapman announced that on Monday 150 department enforcement agents would be transferred to new territories, in line with an established policy of shuffling assignments. Agents in charge of district offices who are being shifted include:

Lou Pickrell, from Columbus to Toledo.

Robert Dinwiddie, from Portsmouth to Columbus.

Robert Coffey, from Sandusky to Canton.

O. T. Conway, from Toledo to Portsmouth.

H. T. Smith, who has been in charge of the agents school here, from Columbus to Dayton.

John Weaver, to take over the school.

Some transfers will be delayed until agents complete investigations now under way, Chapman said.

Check Generator Charging Rate
Test Battery, Clean Terminals, Add Water

A REVERSE FLUSH is recommended in conjunction with the above operation. We also suggest protecting the cooling system with rust retardent—it stops formation of rust and prevents overheating.

MORE MILES PER GALLON

Let us check your car for gas economy, trigger fast starting, acceleration and long mileage.

Chances are the engine is dirty. Sticky deposits, long accumulated may suddenly clog the oiling system. A new set of spark plugs, new water hose connections where required, flushing out radiator, removing crankcase sludge, grinding valves and removing carbon, plus installation of new piston rings and new oil filter will give more miles per gallon.

STOP! But—Can You?

This winter, don't drive with your heart in your mouth . . if you want to feel safe and be safe, bring your car in for a brake adjustment, reline or brake fluid refill.

BEAUTY TREATMENT

For those who take pride in the appearance of their car, we recommend: paint touch-up, seat covers, wash, polish and wax-glaze for winter protection.

NEVER Wait For An Accident or Break-Down To Teach You A Costly Lesson!

Let Us Give Your Car This Winter Safety Check

Galion Policeman Retires After 20 Years With Force

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 22 — Starting duty on the Galion police force before prohibition, Edward Hoekstra, 71, night deskman at the police department, who is retiring Nov. 30, can recall many changes in the city's morals as well as changes in the department's make-up.

With the force for more than 20 years, not consecutive, Hoekstra worked under six different chiefs and three mayors. He worked before prohibition for three years. He was out of the department for a while and then worked extra for several years during prohibition.

A drunken man who struck Hoekstra in the abdomen one night, caused an injury which placed him at the desk where he has served since 1941.

A native of Holland, Hoekstra likes tulips and raising them (he has hundreds of vivid blooms in his garden in the spring) is perhaps his most enjoyable hobby.

He was born in Holland, May 9, 1875, and came to this country in 1881 when he was six years old. His wife is also a native of Holland. They have four children.

In honor of his approaching retirement, Hoekstra was given a surprise last Sunday evening at Hotel Talbott when all members of the police department and their wives, excepting Chief and Mrs. Walker, were present.

On Dec. 10 Mr. and Mrs. Hoekstra will leave for an extended trip to California where they plan to visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zinn and family at Pasadena.

For the wedding, Miss Dorothy West was organist. The bride was attended by Miss Yvonne McFadden of Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Fendrick was graduated from Robert E. Lee High school. She attended Ohio Institute of Technology. For three and one-half years, Mr. Fendrick served in the U. S. Marine Air Corps, part of the time in the Southwest Pacific. He received his formal education in Galion.

Large Audience Hears Program at Church

A near capacity audience heard a trio of radio musicians in a Veterans' Hospital program at Trinity Baptist church Wednesday night. The performers included Richard Maxwell, Miss Helen Benner and Pat S. Withrow Jr., national director of the Veterans' programs setup.

The Veterans' Hospital programs organization was established to provide "clean entertainment" for the hospitalized and to present bedside radios to veterans and service men in hospitals. An offering was taken for the work.

Miss Benner, mezzo-contralto, was ready for her debut on the Metropolitan opera stage when she gave up that goal to visit hospitals in various states for the benefit work for veterans, and joined Mr. Maxwell, who has been heard on programs on various crosscountry radio networks for some time, and Mr. Withrow, also a radio performer. Solos, duets by Mr. Maxwell and Mr. Withrow, and a trio number with all three singing, were featured. Mr. Withrow spoke on his visits to various army and navy camps throughout the country during the last five years and commented on the needs among servicemen arising from a lack of home life and a result of broken homes caused by war conditions.

Stull Sees Michigan in Bowl Game; Fandom Wants Davis, Blanchard

Dopes Them To Nip Bucks As Wildcats Tame Illinois

By DON STULL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22—It's a little out of an Ohio football tout's domain, but we can't help sticking our pigskin picking proboscis into that Big Nine title scrap Saturday.

The headline writers were worried, it seemed, that Illinois, which voted against the Pacific Coast-Western Conference pact, would not go to the Rose Bowl after the conferences scaled the deal.

They should have saved those worries. The Illini won't even be in the running after Northwestern knocks them off Saturday and Michigan thumps Ohio State.

We figure Northwestern, previously touted as the Big Nine's best by Ohio State scouts, is ready to roll again after that four-touchdown loss to Notre Dame last week, and that Michigan, deep with talent in every spot, has too much staying power for Ohio State and should come out of Ohio stadium with the conference title in the bag.

Army, Irish Tilt On West Coast Sought

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22—The City of Angels, still seething with indignation over the Coast conference-Big Nine closed shop on the Rose Bowl excluding Army, appeared determined today to bring the Cadets out here, one way or another.

The city council yesterday invited Army and Notre Dame to play a rematch of their recent scoreless game, and councilman Harold Harby said both institutions seemed receptive to the bid, with an answer probably forthcoming tomorrow. The council would stage the game Dec. 22 or 25 in 103,000-capacity Memorial coliseum, with most proceeds going to charity.

The game probably would be co-sponsored by the county council of the American Legion, which also wired a proposal to West Point and South Bend.

After telephone calls, Harby said Maj. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, West Point commandant, promised an answer within two days, and that Father John Cavanaugh of Notre Dame said the Irish might favorably consider the game, if Army accepts.

O.S.U. FINISHES WORK FOR MICHIGAN GAME

Coach Bixler Not Risking Further Injury to His Squad.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 22—The workout of players was all but finished today and the work-up of fans was starting in earnest for Saturday's Ohio State homecoming game with Michigan.

Unwilling to risk possible injury to a squad handicapped only by the absence of Jerry Krall, speedy Toledo left halfback replacement for Tommy James, Coach Paul Bixler planned only a light workout today. Krall still is bothered with injuries.

In fact, the Bucks took it easy yesterday after Wednesday's rough drill. A feature of the practice was the annual seniors' charge at the tackling dummy for the final time. Six players hugged the swinging strawman for the last time—Captain Warren Amling and Chuck Csuri, tackles; Hal Dean and Wib Schneider, guards; Cecil Souders, end; and Dick Palmer, quarterback.

Between 77,000 and 78,000 fans are assured for Saturday's game, promising the fourth largest crowd in the Ohio Stadium history. Michigan fans were alloted 14,000 tickets.

The Wolverines are coming here with hopes that a victory they are favored to gain over the Bucks will enable them to clinch the Western conference championship.

Local fans will see two former Columbus high school players in a quarterbacking duel Saturday. George Spencer of the Bucks was playing for Bexley high here when Howard Yerges of Michigan was calling signals for suburban Grandview.

QUEER FISH IN ROSE BOWL IF ILLINI GO

West Coast May See Year's Most Paradoxical 11.

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 22 — If surprising Illinois can conquer Northwestern tomorrow to grab—in one fell swoop—its first Western Conference title since 1928 and a Rose Bowl bid, the West Coast will be invaded New Year's day by perhaps the nation's most paradoxical collegiate eleven.

Nothing worked right for the fighting Illini this season except their bulldog courage and the knack of coming off the floor to wield a knockout punch when the chips were down.

When Notre Dame belted the Illini 26-6, early in the season and two weeks later Indiana handed them their second defeat in four starts, 14-7, the experts promptly stamped Buddy Young & Co. as vastly over rated and a Big Nine dud.

But Illinois kept plugging. It raked a 27-21 decision out of the fire against Wisconsin. Heavily-favored Michigan shoved the Illini all over the lot, but finished on the short end of a 13-9 count. Iowa knocked at the goal line six times, but Illinois nipped the Hawkeyes, 7-0.

Then in wallowing mud at Champaign last Saturday, the Illini let bruising Ohio State run out of gas and knocked the Buckeyes out of the conference title race with a 16-7 verdict.

That gave the Illini a 5-1 league record, even though they rank eighth in rushing and still are waiting for fleet-footed Young to explode into his 13-touchdown form as a freshman in 1944 and his brilliant 1945 style when he wowed the West Coast with the Fleet City, Calif., eleven.

Some Big Nine observers say Buddy is a constant threat, but it doesn't show in the touchdown column where the chunky Negro swiftly has racked up only three six-pointers for eight games.

With Northwestern's line riddled by injuries, the Illini problem tomorrow apparently centers only on halting the Wildcats' crack offensive duo of Vic Schwall and Art Murakowski. Back Frank Aschenbrenner apparently will be sidelined with a knee injury.

An Illini upset by the Wildcats, coupled with a Michigan triumph over Ohio State tomorrow would send the Wolverines prancing into the conference throne room and subsequently to Pasadena.

About 600 pounds of coal must be burned in a powerhouse boiler to light the average home for a year.

SELECTION FOR CERDAN. Marcel Cerdan, French middleweight boxing champion, selects a glove from a pile of boxing equipment in New York City after he arrived from Europe on the Ile de France. He will meet Georgie Abrams in Madison Square Garden in New York City Dec. 6.

Worthington To Tackle Cabbies Here Tomorrow

Reeling from two straight setbacks, the Safety Cab semi-pro gridders will tackle the Worthington Independents tomorrow night at Harding stadium. The game will begin at 8:30.

Worthington is reported to have a team which averages 200 pounds per player on the line and at the time Sid Tennant, manager of the Cabbies, scheduled them, they were undefeated, having won five contests and tied one. One of their victories was over the Columbus club which played against the 740 A. C.'s for the Capital City championship. The team roster includes players who were formerly with the Ohio State squad.

Ivey Ready Again

In this contest Marion will again have the services of Bob Ivey, the Negro star who formerly performed so capably with the Dayton Bombers. Ivey had previously left Marion in favor of Dayton because of his desire to play football. Marion did not have a semi-pro team at the time. After the second time he played against the Marion club, Bob decided to come here and play for his home town. Against the Dakotas, Wednesday night, Ivey quickly established himself as a crowd favorite and, although unfamiliar with the Cabbie plays, figured strongly in their offense.

Another player up from Dayton for the contest was Rice. Although the fans were clamoring to see him put in the game as a running mate for Ivey Coach Fetter held him because he probably will not be with the Cabbies in any of their remaining tilts.

Meeting Strong Team

The Cabbies' opponent tomorrow night will be one of the strongest met this season.

Marion lost to the Dakotas largely because after starting strongly their offense hit a snag. The game, which at the outset showed signs of becoming a high scoring one, developed into a close contest with the breaks deciding the victor It will take a lot of heads-up ball on Marion's part for them to win Saturday.

Colan-Thomas Bout on WMRN Tonight

Headlined on New York's fistic card tonight is the ten-round return bout between heavyweights Johnny Colan (above) of Long Island and John Thomas, Florida.

Last May, the Long Island battler was outpointed by Thomas, but Johnny is confident this time he'll send the Floridian down for a toll of ten. Always a capable boxer, he has added power to his hitting—now punches with authority. He's the kind of fighter who drives straight away with both mitts.

Thomas, a consistent crowd-pleaser, is regarded as the No. 1 trial horse of the heavy division. Included in his list of victims are such familiar names as Abel Cestac, Billy Grant, Joey Maxim, and others.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

CARTLAND AND COOK GIVE PING PONG SHOW

No Localites Able To Win $25 Offered by Champs.

Table tennis masters Doug Cartland and Harry Cook last night at the Y.M.C.A. gave an exhibition of their ability before a crowd of approximately 175 persons.

Doug Cartland, described as one of the best table tennis players in the world, conducted the exhibition aided by Cook who provides a comic element for their act besides showing defensive skill.

Cartland is international table tennis champion and Cook is the retired Canadian national champion. The two gave an exhibition of trick shots.

Cartland challenged spectators, agreeing to award anyone who beat him a $25 bond. In playing little mercy always taking the first point and holding an advantage throughout the game.

The diminutive Cook seated in a chair played a challenger a five point match losing mainly because Cartland saw to it that he followed the rules set up for the game.

After their exhibition, Cartland and Cook played a regulation match in which Cook stopped clowning and gave his best. Although the favorite of the crowd, Cook was unable to win either game. In the first game he forced the score to 26-24. However, in the second contest Cartland jumped to an early lead and, despite a late rally by Cook, the international champ took the match.

Holding a clinic in how to play table tennis, Cartland explained the various shots which he used in a match and answered questions.

Big 9 Admits Heavy Pressure To Let Army Go To Rose Bowl

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 22—Western Conference Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson has reported that "there was considerable pressure" to have Army play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, but he said a Big Nine football team—either Illinois or Michigan—will be chosen next week for the coast classic.

Upon his return yesterday from an inter-conference parley at Berkeley, Calif., Wilson said the team which will carry the Big Nine colors west will be selected next week in a faculty representative poll. The conference championship will be settled tomorrow with the results of the Illinois-Northwestern and Michigan-Ohio State games.

Explaining in an interview the five-year contract drawn up by the Pacific coast and Big Nine conferences, the commissioner said the Big Nine did not exert any pressure to start the series Jan. 1, thereby excluding Army.

"Army would have been a fine bowl representative," he declared, "but we long have had machinery started for the series and had the Pacific Coast delayed it, we would have had to come back and try to start this all over again next year, perhaps with less success.

"There was considerable pressure," he continued, "to have Army play the Pacific Coast team in the 1947 Rose Bowl, with the Big Nine withdrawing its part in the agreement until Jan. 1, 1948. This movement was originated by a group of Los Angeles sports writers. We, of the Big Nine, have no authority to hold back from an immediate opening of the series and the Pacific Coast conference finally voted to meet our team on the coming New Year's Day."

The agreement between the conferences does not shut the door on future appearances by Western teams in the Pasadena classic, Wilson said.

The commissioner said he is forwarding letters to each conference school for an expression of opinion on which team will represent the Big Nine. It was possible, but not probable, he said, that the league faculty representatives might vote for a team other than the eventual champion. Illinois originally voted against bowl play.

20 Clevelanders Get Piece of Indian Stock

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22 — Ownership of the Cleveland Indians was spread among 20 stockholders today after nine additional Clevelanders got a piece of the club.

Thus President Bill Veeck carried out his intention, announced shortly after the Indians changed hands last June 22, of getting greater representation of local capital into the Cleveland Baseball Co.

The new stockholders were identified last night at a dinner Veeck gave for them. Extent of their holdings was not disclosed.

Veeck and his Chicago associates bought the Indians from the John Sherwin-Alva Bradley interests for a reported price of $1,500,000 to $1,750,000.

WESLEYAN BISHOPS SET FOR GRID TILT TONIGHT

OWU at Near Full Strength and Ready for Rollins.

By The Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 22 — With both squads virtually at full strength, Ohio Weslevan's Bishops and the Rollins college Tars will meet here tonight in the third game of a rivalry dating back to 1937.

With exception of right end Orville Thomas, suffering with an injured knee, Coach Jack McDowall said his Rollins squad would be in good shape while Coach George Gauthier said only quarterback Clint Stevenson would be missing from the Wesleyan varsity.

Merle Lasley, former Claridon six-man football star, and one of the few to move up from an abreviated squad to a college eleven will be the starting fullback for Ohio Wesleyan.

Musial Voted Most Valuable

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—Stanley Frank Musial, ace first baseman of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and his league's batting king with a .365 average today was named the National league's most valuable player in 1946.

In winning baseball's most coveted prize for the second time in his four-year major league career, the Donora, Pa., clouter who only yesterday celebrated his 26th birthday, received the highest total of points ever accorded any player since the present rating was adopted in 1938.

Won in 1943

Musial, who also was voted most valuable in 1943 with 267 points, polled 319 points in the balloting by a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Three writers from each league city voted.

The previous high received by any player was 305 by Jimmy Foxx in 1938 while a member of the Boston Red Sox.

Musial received 22 of the 24 first place votes to make a runaway race of the balloting.

Second place went to Brooklyn's Dixie Walker, the "people's choice" whose 159 points made him the poorest runner-up in the last nine years. The Dodgers' popular veteran rightfielder whose .323 batting average and 116 runs batted in almost brought Brooklyn its first pennant since 1941, did not receive a first place vote, but was second choice on nine ballots.

STAN MUSIAL
NL's Most Valuable

Slaughter Considered

Outfielder Enos Slaughter and southpaw pitcher Howie Pollet both members of the Cards, were third and fourth respectively. Slaughter got the only two first place votes not allotted to Musial and received 144 points. He batted an even .300 during the regular season and was the runs batted in king with 128.

Pollet, whose 21 victories made him the "winningest" pitcher in the league was the only other player to get more than 100 points. He received 116. Fifth place went to right handed pitcher Johnny Sain of the Boston Braves, only other 20-game winner in the circuit. He received 95 points.

Rounding out the first 10 were Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, Brooklyn shortstop, 79, Ed Stanky, Dodger second baseman, 67; Del Ennis, hard-hitting outfielder of the Philadelphia Phils' candidate for rookie-of-the-year honors, 61; Harold (Pistol Pete) Reiser Brooklyn fly-chaser, 58, and last year's most valuable player, Phil Cavaretta, outfielder-first baseman of the Chicago Cubs, 49.

Al Szasz Repeats With Win Over Steve Nenoff

Al Szasz again downed Steve Nenoff the second and third time in the main go at the armory last night. Nenoff took the first fall. Szasz took the next two in seven minutes.

Gorden Hessell won the semi-final two falls to one over Dale Hadlock.

As a preliminary Darell Murton won over Dick Murton in two rounds.

Fined in Court

Hiram Blue, 76 of Louisville, Ky., was fined $25 and costs Tuesday in municipal court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of panhandling. He was arrested near the courthouse Sunday night. Unable to pay his fine, he was taken to the county jail.

In the first McMillen Feeds downed Claridon Ex Hi's in an overtime game 32 to 30.

Kenton Cage Team Has One Returnee

From Kenton comes the news that head basketball coach Harland Kinney has only one returning letterman around which to build his team. This stalwart is fleet Wilbur Brown, who, in football this season, led Western Buckeye conference scorers with 100 points and tallied 118 for the season. If this star shows on the basketball court like he has on the gridiron Kenton's team has a good chance of becoming a power on the hardwood.

Although not too optimistic about his school's chances this season Lloyd Chanlin, faculty manager and reserve coach, says that the squad shows promise and may, as the season progresses, be able to give a good account of themselves. Last year, after completing a fairly successful season the Kenton cagers dropped their district tournament match to Galion 53-40. Galion went on to the finals, finally being ousted by Wapakoneta.

As his assistant Coach Kinney will have Vic Dorris, familiar to Marion sports fans for the prepping of Harding grid teams in 1942 and 1943.

After tonight's game with the alumni the rest of the schedule is: Nov. 27, Upper Sandusky; Dec. 6, at St. Marys; Dec. 13, Bellefontaine; Dec. 20, Columbus South; Jan. 3, Ada; Jan. 7, Lima St. Girard; Jan. 10, Bluffton; Jan. 17, at Urbana; Jan. 21 Bucyrus; Jan. 24, at Celina; Jan. 28 at Findlay; Jan. 31 Wapakoneta; Feb. 7, at Fostoria; Feb. 11 Crestline; Feb. 14, at Van Wert and Feb. 21, open.

Fined on Conduct Charge

Frank Conn, 45, of 928 Kenton avenue was fined $25 and costs Tuesday in municipal court when he pleaded guilty to charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct. He was arrested last Friday.

Forecaster Picks Southern Cal. To Spoil U.C.L.A.'s Record and Scramble Rose Bowl

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 — Football interest shifts to the Pacific Coast tomorrow where Southern California is host to the University of California at Los Angeles in a game that will determine to a large extent, which club competes against the Big Nine champion on Jan. 1 in the Rose Bowl.

UCLA's gridiron forces are unbeaten this year while the Trojans were mastered by Oregon State 6 to 0, in a conference tussle and by Ohio State, 21 to 0, in an intersectional affair. But the Trojans have become alive during the past month and this forecaster predicts they will paste the first blot on the UCLA record Saturday.

Other forecasts:

Notre Dame over Tulane: The Green Wave is exactly that and that will prove fatal for the Southerners unless the Irish take a siesta in the Dixie sunshine. It should be one of unbeaten Notre Dame's easier victories.

North Carolina over Duke: The most ancient rivals in the South, Carolina and Duke, located just a few miles apart, meeting for the loop title and a possible bowl bid. There's not much to choose but the home field and Charlie Justice give the Tar Heels the edge.

Michigan over Ohio State: The Wolverines need a victory here and a defeat for Illinois by Northwestern to gain the Big Nine title every one awarded them last September. Michigan should win but don't be surprised if Ohio's Joe Whisler is the top back on the field.

Illinois over Northwestern: Buddy Young hasn't had a "big" day this season and he is more than due. If Illinois wins it will mean the first Big Nine title for the Illini since 1928 and a Rose Bowl trip.

Yale over Harvard: A Harvard football team seldom is defeated in November, but Yale has too much power and will march to another Big Three title. Levi Jackson to add a bit of blue to Harvard's crimson.

Tennessee over Kentucky: Through the years Kentucky has always been tough for the Volunteers but the Neyland machine will triumph.

Indiana over Purdue, Minnesota over Wisconsin, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Michigan State over Maryland, Oklahoma A & M over Drake.

TAX CUT

for a considerable time under present rates, many taxpayers would have a long wait for their excess payments refunded.

The government probably would not start making refunds until after March 15, 1948, when final tax returns will be due on 1947 income. It might be midsummer of 1948 before most of the excess tax payments were refunded.

* * *

What It May Mean to You

Some samples of how 20 percent cut in income taxes would reduce yearly tax bill of taxpayers in various income brackets:

Man, Wife and Two Dependents

Net Income	1946 Tax	Tax if Cut 20 percent
2,500	$95	$76
3,000	190	152
4,000	380	304
5,000	589	471.20
6,000	798	638.40
8,000	1,292	1,033.60
10,000	1,862	1,489.60

Man, Wife and No Dependents

1,500	95	76
2,000	190	152
3,000	380	304
10,000	2,185	1,748

(Net income means income after deductions have been taken for such items as certain taxes, interest, and extraordinary medical expenses, but before personal exemptions are taken.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—Static, both natural and man-made, long has been an affliction of the radio waves for which engineers have sought a cure-all. Various have been the devices and methods tried. Comes now a "pulse detector" intended to do a job in commercial communication where any form of code signals, ranging from plain telegraph to the more complicated, is used.

Not yet at the stage where it can be employed on voice, its designer, Don Lewes Hings of the electronic laboratories at Indianapolis, Ind., has made it apply to such code communication purposes as aviation, police, ship to shore, radiophoto and facsimile.

The device, which can be attached to any commercial receiver, employs the principle of "noise to eliminate noise." Or as Hings explained, it "detects unwanted noise, then electronically utilizes that noise to pass on the radio signal, however weak." The result is clear reception.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY For A Select Group of Young Men

When the Japanese were on our very doorstep in the Aleutians, you read of the bitter fight put up by the famous 7th Infantry Division, and how these gallant fighters were first to drive the enemy from our own soil. Then on to Kwajalein, Leyte and Okinawa, the 7th blazed a trail of heroism that will long be remembered.

Today this same U. S. Army unit is stationed in Korea, famed seaside spot in the Far East. It is performing the very vital job of occupation. But the men of the 7th are having a far different time of it now than they did on Attu. They have swimming facilities, tennis courts, recreational clubs and many other opportunities for sports. They are living more comfortably there than ever before. They are sightseeing and having high adventure in a strange land.

A select group of picked young men are now offered the opportunity of proudly joining the "Hourglass Division." You may be one of the eligible ones. If so, after initial training in the U. S., you may join right up with the 7th if you enlist now in the Regular Army for a 3-year period.

Remember, overseas pay is 20% higher, so a Private starts at $120 a month in Korea, in addition to food, clothing, quarters, etc. Get full details today at U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 364 W. Center St., Marion, Ohio.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I went back to Lillian's room in much better spirits than when I had left it, but found her tense and plainly uneasy.

"How was it?" she asked, as soon as I had come through the door. "Was she—"

"She took it in her stride," I said, "as your daughter would. She loathes the idea of spying upon her 'roomie,' of course, but she also remembers the time that Carolyn's folly and her quixotic championship of the girl nearly lead to tragedy for both of them and their families.

"So, she has promised me to be on the job every minute," I went on, "and now I must ask you to watch Helena every waking minute, I want her to sleep in here with you, and have Carolyn sleep with Marion."

With Shining Eyes

"That will be all right," she said with shing eyes, "but we're going to take time out right now while I thank you for saving me from a most disagreeable time. And I'm not sure that I should have succeeded in the task. I am too close to her, and too squeamish to deal with her adequately."

"Stuff and nonsense," I told her, "and you're welcome to anything I've done. But I must tell you one thing before Helena comes back."

I repeated what I had told Carolyn about locking the two bedroom doors at night, and she gave me a gamin grin.

"And you won't be able to see Helena when she finds that out," she said. "But more power to you. By the way, where's Harry?"

"Oh!" I said. "My treacherous memory, good for codes and things like that, but failing me on things close to me when I need it most. Listen with both your ears."

Tells of the Message

I told her as I had told Katharine of the message Bertha Kent had brought, and of the conference concerning it which was now going on in the secret subterranean chamber, and the names of the men conferring.

"And you not there!" she said witheringly.

"Well!" I retorted, "for that matter, neither are you."

"Granted," she said, "granted also, that we both know right now what that message means, and what ought to be done about it. But I wasn't present, and you were. You got the message, and delivered it. Wait till I see the Chief. I'll bet he'll get an earful if they're the last words I ever speak."

Time to Leave

"They probably will be," I told her, laughing, "but I really must get away from here. It never would do to have Helena find me here."

"No," she agreed. "Helena doesn't like you very well right now, But she'll get over it."

"Perhaps," I said, pushing back an impulse to add that it would be all right with me if Helena cherished the antipathy she had for me until her dying day.

"And it wouldn't send you into a decline if you never got over it," she said shrewdly. "But I envy you. By the pricking of my thumbs, I feel something's going to be doing tonight, and I'll be locked in here with Helena. Be sure to give me a round by round play when everything's over."

The Door Ajar

"If they don't lock me into a closet until the show is over," I said and departed on the word, going directly to my own room, and sitting down again in the dark with the door ajar. I knew that the group in the secret underground room, would have to pass my room on their way, from the attic, and I determined to have some inkling of what they had decided.

But the footsteps which first approached were feminine. Katharine was escorting Helena and Carolyn back to the rooms they were to share with Lillian and Marion. For a wonder, Helena's voice was subdued and free from venom.

"Sam is really better, isn't he?" she asked.

"He certainly is," Katharine replied, "and he'll be better still tomorrow."

The little procession went on, and in two more minutes Katharine had stopped by my door.

"Why are you sitting in the dark?" she whispered.
